

Rainy Day Dismissal Procedures:

To avoid having students wait out in the rain at dismissal time we have begun a new rainy day dismissal procedure. We are still working out the kinks and are all doing our best to, first, ensure student safety and then to make sure the students get to their vehicles if they are getting a ride home. Here are the new procedures for rainy days.

- If you plan to meet your child at school and walk or ride home, please wait at the front of the school or in the lunch area until the dismissal bell rings at 2:20, then pick up your child from his/her classroom after the bell rings. This procedure is the same, rain or shine.
- If you pick your child up in the car line, students will remain in the classroom until their name is called and then proceed to the front of school (It helps a lot to have a name tag on your rear view mirror with student names listed – you can get one from the office!). The exception to this is for students whose teacher is working dismissal duty that day. They will be in the Multipurpose Room.
- If your child walks home, they are released at 2:20 from class and proceed home as usual. If they meet friends or siblings, they are to meet where they normally do on any other day.
